BWH Primary Care

All Brigham and Women's Health Care (BWHC) employees and their covered family members have the option to receive primary care through BWHC or a Partners-affiliated practice.

BWHC primary care is team-based and comprehensive, offering improved access, preventive care, health promotion and education, as well as patient and family engagement and care of chronic illness. It delivers improved outcomes and higher patient satisfaction. BWHC is also dedicated to providing outstanding primary care for infants, children and adolescents through the Partners Network Primary Care Pediatricians in addition to Brookside Community Health Center and Southern Jamaica Plain Health Center.

This page will help you to quickly find a practice location convenient for you that is accepting new patients.
